Blood as Food Highly Commended.
The present tendency of physicians to ascribe all sorts of illness to a diet that is too high in protein is deprecated by Doctor von Noorden in discussing in the Monatsschrift Medizinische Wochenschrift a paper on blood as a food. The famous diet specialist says the longer he lives the more firmly convinced is he that a high protein regimen is best. He believes a low protein diet means weakenings in future generations. The Medical Record summarizes this article by saying we must—especially when meat foods are high in price—make an economic use of such foods as blood, naturally in the form of blood pudding or blood and tongue sausage. Blood is even medicinal as a carrier of organic iron. Blood powder and the like may be used for re-enforcing such dishes as soups with protein.

Woman's Attitude Toward Law.

In most cases woman is lawless; she will obey the law because she is afraid of it, but she will not respect it. For her it is always sic volo, sic jubeo. I suspect that if she had had a share in making the law she would not have been like this, for she would have become aware of the relation between law and life. Roughly she tends to look upon the law as tyrannous if she does not like it, as protective if she does like it. Probably there is little relation between her own moral impulse, which is generous, and the law, which is only just. (That is, just in intention.) This is qualified by the moral spirit in woman, which increasingly leads her to the view that certain things should be done and others not be done. But even then it is likely that at heart woman does not respect the law; she may respect what it represents—strength—but not what it implies—equity. She is infinitely more rebellious than man, and where she has power she inflames the world in protest. I do not refer to the militant suffragists, but to woman's general attitude.—W. L. George, in the Atlantic.

A. L. Laraway transacted business in Burlington and Winslow last week. W. W. Wright, sawyer for A. L. and T. J. Laraway, has returned from Richmond, where he spent Sunday with his family.

At the Republican Caucus held last night, G. B. Maurice acted as chairman and A. L. Laraway as Secretary. Delegates chosen to State Convention were M. H. Mann and A. L. Laraway; alternates, D. B. Oakes and L. C. Langdell. Republican Town Committee, A. L. Laraway, H. H. Haire and M. H. Mann. Plenty of Roosevelt stickers were in evidence but no others.

MORRISVILLE

Mrs. F. W. Hunt returned to Burlington Tuesday night.

Alvin Davis of Marshfield was the guest of friends in town over Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Roy and Romeo Fogg and Miss Ida Newcity were guests of Mr. Fogg's brother in Montpelier Sunday.

Karl Kramer, who has been employed for several months in a hospital for the insane at Palmer, Mass., arrived home last evening and will spend the summer here.

P. A. Wins Fourth Straight

Peoples Academy defeated Brigham yesterday by a score of 9 to 6. Both teams fielded poorly and with the aid of a few hits made a large score possible. P. A. made 10 errors to B. A. 7. Both teams made eight hits. Following is the score by innings:—

P. A.	1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9
B. A.	0 0 0 3 2 0 4 0 x—9

P. A. meets Montpelier Seminary next Tuesday on the home grounds. Montpelier has a strong team and has played close scores with several of the best teams in the state.

Friday P. A. journeys to Barton, where they meet Barton Academy Friday and will play at Newport Saturday.

Morrisville A. C. Church Notes

All services were well attended last Sunday. The text of the morning sermon by the Pastor, J. J. Bennett, was Hebrews 11:3. Reasons for believing in the existence of a God were based primarily on Nature, Revelation and Human Experience. Strong, conclusive arguments were brought in proof of the Supreme deity.

The Sunday school search question as given was, What king fell from a window, and what Queen was thrown from a window?

The L. W. meeting at 6 o'clock was led by Miss Addie Putnam; topic, Resource and Responsibility.

In the evening the Pastor spoke on Our Passover Lamb, Ex. 12:13 and 1 Cor. 5:7. Notice the value of types and anti-types.

The Divinity of Christ will be the subject of the morning sermon; and The True Lily, for evening next Sunday.

Morrisville Cong'l Church Notes

Prayer meeting Thursday evening.

Next Sunday morning, Mr. Baker will take for his theme, "Quo Vadis?" You are cordially invited to the services of this church, if you have no other church home.

The Christian Endeavor service, a union meeting with the Juniors, was led by Mrs. Sears, who in a most interesting talk opened the discussion on the subject, "What would Jesus have me do?"

Speaking on the subject, "The Boomerang," from the text, "Judge not, that ye be not judged," last Sunday morning, the Pastor made the appeal for a more kindly regard for the feelings and the rights of others.

By how much would the world be the gainer if we could all learn to be a little more self-contained, not so ready to explode in a volcanic outburst of unkindness the moment we get hold of something in the form of spicy news, or some discovery we have made about a fellow being. There is a sort of physical exercise we get in the gymnasium, and our muscles are strengthened thereby; there is a sort of mental exercise we get in the school-room or the study, and our minds are strengthened thereby; there is a sort of exercise we get in church for the strengthening of our souls. But there is another that would compare favorably with any of these as a method of discipline and that is to get hold of a little piece of news, a little bit of gossip, or a little discovery you have made all by yourself relative to a fellow being, and then keep it absolutely to yourself. Talk about training the muscles; talk about training the mind! These are small compared with the training of the will required to prevent our retailing a little bit of spicy news or rendering condemnation upon others by passing along something that we have heard or discovered regarding them!

Morrisville Methodist Church Notes

The Junior League gave a birthday party in church for the children in honor of Faith Edmunds.

The church was filled to overflowing Sunday morning at the Mothers' Day service. The Song of Veterans and Ladies' Auxiliary and Modern Woodman attended the service in a body. The choir rendered special music for the occasion and the duet by Mrs. Jackson and Mrs. Lawson was exceptionally good.

A special program was rendered at the League service in the evening under the leadership of Miss Charlotte Camp. Some of the special features of the evening were as follows: solos by Faith Edmunds, Dolly McGoon, and Walter Titus. An inspiring paper was read by Mrs. E. E. Siloway and helpful readings were given by Mrs. B. E. Eaton, Ray Snalley and the leader.

There were 180 present at Sunday school Sunday morning.

Services will begin in the church at Elmore Sunday at 2:30 p. m.

The Pastor has chosen for his subject Sunday morning, "The Rose of Sharon and the Lily of the Valley."

Morrisville Universalist Church Notes

Do not forget the meeting this Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock, Mr. Turner of the Chautauqua Managers is to be with us to give instructions and help us effect a local organization.

A committee has been appointed or have in charge the exercises on Children's Sunday which comes June 11. The service will be turned over to them.

It seems advisable to devote the offering next Sunday to the annual quota. This and the Easter offering are about the only extra expenses our people have been asked to bear for some time, so let us do as well as we can.

Edwin B. Stewart, B. & M. Yard Train Foreman, Mangled Under Car

The following was taken from a daily paper of Lowell, Mass., of last week Tuesday, concerning the death of Edwin B. Stewart, which was noted in this paper last week:—

For 28 years, Edwin B. Stewart of 62 Gates street, was employed about the Boston & Maine yard in Lowell, without mishap. Yesterday morning, about 7 o'clock, he was thrown from a freight car directly beneath the wheels of the car following, with the result of almost instantaneous death. The wheels passed over the left leg and arm, almost severing them.

Always a most careful man in his work—he had been foreman of the yard train for 26 years—Stewart's one terrible experience in the dangerous work about freight yards was not due to negligence on his part. The accident was unavoidable, because at the time of its occurrence, all of the men employed on the train were seemingly in safe places.

The train drew out of the yard towards Middlesex village about 7 o'clock, with Stewart in charge. Ordinary work of shifting cars and trains was on the program and the routine of daily manipulation was about to begin. Of a sudden the train stopped. Cars its entire length crashed against each other. In the middle of the train was the caboose, which carried a dozen men, including Stewart. The force of the sudden stop caught the men and spun them about like toys. Unfortunately Stewart had a position near the door, and he was thrown out and directly under the wheels of the oncoming car—for although the halt was sudden and brought on a slight collision throughout the entire train, the momentum was sufficient to carry a car directly over the man's arm and leg. Death was almost instantaneous.

He was a painstaking, efficient employee, well liked by all, and his death came as a shock to a wide circle of his friends. He leaves a wife, Mrs. Lucy Stewart; two brothers and five sisters.

Besides his wife and an aged mother, Mrs. Elmira Stewart, of Morrisville, he leaves two brothers, F. L. Stewart of Morrisville and W. L. Stewart of Hardwick, and five sisters, Mrs. Melissa Gayer of Waterbury, Mrs. William Hoagboom and Mrs. Anna Willey of Arlington, Mass., Mrs. Angie Greene of Bath, N. H., and Mrs. S. L. Ring of Morrisville.

Edwin B. Stewart was born in Lowell, Vt., and his age was 57 years and 11 months and 21 days. He spent many years of his boyhood days in Morrisville, but had been a resident of Massachusetts for many years and had resided in Lowell eleven years. He was united in marriage in August, 1886, to Ellen Reynolds of Essex, who died July 31, 1904. He was married a second time on October 15, 1906, to Lucy E. Dargie, who survives him.

His remains arrived here Friday night and funeral services were held from the home of his sister, Mrs. S. L. Ring, Saturday morning at 10 o'clock, Rev. W. T. Best of the Methodist Episcopal church officiating. M. B. White had charge of the services. The bearers were William Hoagboom, W. B. Stewart, F. L. Stewart and Arthur Stewart. Interment was in the cemetery on Morris-town Plains.

There was a large and beautiful floral display, including four wreaths, one large set piece from his wife, one large set piece from Boston & Maine railroad employees, with a large purple bow, upon which was inscribed, "Our Foreman," and nine large sprays.

The Contest.
"All men," said the earnest citizen, "are born equal."
"They are that," replied Mr. Rafferty. "But they don't stay equal after they're big enough to get together in the schoolyard."—Washington Star.

PEOPLES ACADEMY NOTES

Miss Beatrice Morrill has been out of school this week on account of illness.

Ellis Melendy and Miss Doris Stone spent Saturday and Sunday at the home of the former's parents in Jeffersonville.

The P. A. students presented the two shows, "The Charms of Music" and "The Revolt", at Jeffersonville last Friday evening under the auspices of the Junior class of Jeffersonville High school. A number of students accompanied the players and all report a fine time.

Miss Grace Gates was in Burlington last Saturday and Sunday.

Miss Barbara Small has been detained at her home by illness this week.

Kenneth Foster was absent Monday because of illness.

Isabel Harris was in Enosburg Fall Friday night to attend a May ball.

The Ladies' Aid Society of the M. E. church will serve supper in the vestry Wednesday from 5:30 p. m. until all are served. Ice cream will be included in the bill of fare.

Mr. Editor:—My attention has been called by the officials of the village to the fact that several of the younger people are riding bicycles, and running roller coasters on the side walks. I wish to call the attention of those so doing to the fact that this is prohibited by law, and in case it does not cease, prosecutions will follow further violations.
